MAGRATH MEETING ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Majority Candidate Opens His Campaign—Quillins His Opponent—Hastings—Ald. Clarke to Hospital—Candidates—Ald. May, Answered Candidates.

Charles H. H. Crawford in opening the Magrath majority campaign meeting last night in Ross hall, located Mr. Magrath as a booster for Edmonton. There were about 100 present. The program of speeches was varied by a solo from Mr. Burroughs, who presided his song with a short speech.

D. H. Hastings criticized the way the railways have cut up the city, and said "Magrath had the vim to say no to the railway. The city needs more like Magrath, who does things."

W. H. Clegg, chairman of the Magrath committee, said he would be quite willing to give voice to any men who brought industry to the city.

Mr. Magrath speaks. At the outset of a lengthy speech Mr. Magrath said he believed in Sunday work, and then went on to attack the administration of Mayor Armstrong. He praised the old council of the city of Edmonton for the passing program of 1912. He criticized very severely the present leading on the city, and the crowd of car service across the river. Lack of power was said to be the excuse for the city. "Of course, I am a real estate man, I wonder how many of you are not interested in real estate?" He said, "I am a real estate man, I wonder how many of you are not interested in real estate?" He said, "I am a real estate man, I wonder how many of you are not interested in real estate?"

He attacked whoever was to blame for the loss of the city, and said that the city of Edmonton was to be built on the University grounds. "An invitation was extended to Mr. Magrath to attend Magrath's meeting on Tuesday evening in the Bijou theatre, where, when he would give a square deal and an opportunity to hear his views to the electors."

Ald. Calder speaks. In introducing Ald. Calder, the chairman addressed an appeal to the editorial in urging South side as an alderman. Ald. Calder by acclamation was elected.

Ald. Calder publicly announced his intention for re-election as alderman. He appreciated the support of the electors. He said he would give a square deal and an opportunity to hear his views to the electors.

Ald. May spoke last, but held the attention of the electors as alderman. He said he would give a square deal and an opportunity to hear his views to the electors.

CROSS BRIDGE BEFORE 12 P.M. From midnight till 4 a.m. on last night a gang of men busy on the low level bridge. For a full length at a time the rails of the street railway and of the Canadian Northern are taken up. The planking of the road way and of the two side roads are also removed.

The railway tracks and the old roadbed were laid upon 843 timbers about 5 inches apart and were placed between the old timbers are being filled with new 843 timbers and the roadway is supported by a solid floor of 12 inch timbers.

As soon as the work had been done, the rails are replaced with block pavement instead of planks as formerly. During the night when this work is going on no automobile or motor vehicle can pass over the bridge. Foot passengers have to make the best of it across on the foot bridge. Some who may be a little nervous have been careful to step right down, men a fall to the river below, but no accidents have happened any belated pedestrians.

MR. MILLER'S NOVEL PAPER.

A novel dinner party was given on Tuesday evening by J. B. Miller to a number of his friends and acquaintances. The food had been served by Miller and his handmaids, especially the hostess, who was dressed in a blue and white gown. Nine couples sat down to the banquet table. The table was dressed in a dark grey tablecloth and was set with a white and blue striped cloth. The table was set with a white and blue striped cloth. The table was set with a white and blue striped cloth.

GLAD HAND NOW TO S. S. On the lower level of the city election there is said to be 2,712 residents on the South side. The majority of alderman candidates will therefore become very solicitous of their votes and influence.

South Side Office 21 Whyte Ave. E. Phone 3413.

OPENING NEW CAR LINE.

The completion of the street railway across Mill Creek and up past the John's College, the Rutherford school and to the very door of St. James Methodist church will be a great boon to the residents of Mill Creek. It will be put in operation on Dec. 1. Eventually this new car line will likely be linked up to make a loop line around across the Clover bar road and down the hill, as in the past End bridge and thus connect with Jasper avenue.

For the present it will be a dead end line but with such a large settlement at Mill Creek it should be a revenue producer.

BUILDERS STILL BUSY.

Building operations have not ceased. The excavators may be seen at work removing the foundation earth so that foundation walls may be constructed. All over the South side buildings may be seen in all the stages of construction from the steel skeleton framework to the one almost finished structure where the painters are at work.

ALDERMAN J. S. CLARKE TO BE NOMINATED

(Continued from Page One) J. S. Roberts and wife, from Toronto, are visitors at the home of H. A. Thompson, First avenue northeast. The construction work has been going on at the new building, about the Irvine estate with the foundation work completed. When the weather comes this large modern school building will be ready to receive its first class of pupils.

Mr. Clarke, who was present, was asked to address the gathering. Mr. Clarke's text was that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race.

Opposes Old C.A. Lines.

J. H. Powell, Kirkness street, was enthusiastic in his opposition to either of the candidates. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race.

Mr. Powell was just about to give his opinion when he was interrupted by Mr. Armstrong, who was going to give the presidency of the Municipal Paving company, and that was why so many contractors were going to that company.

Joseph Adair, in his second speech, announced that he was sure the third candidate would support a citywide strike, athletic grounds and Sunday amusements.

The third candidate, in making his speech of acceptance, recalled how he had been the bull-dog of the street railway during the past year, how he had barked at every work of wrong-doing, how he would stand for all that is true and how he would try any civic center.

The following general campaign committee was chosen at the conclusion of the meeting:

Harry Nash, chairman; A. W. C. McKim, secretary; Frank Blake, Robert Hamilton, M. C. Rogers, William Whinner, Edward Bell, N. H. McKim, H. P. McKim, J. F. Woodward, J. D. Lacombe, William H. Wilson, Edward Crowe, W. H. McKim, J. D. Lacombe, Charles C. McKim, F. A. Broadbent, Charles Butler, A. E. Crammond, and A. W. Garmichael.

The Finance Committee.

calls per line per day. Edmonton's system was not all that could be wished for but it was better and cheaper than any in Canada except Port Arthur which had installed a new plant on the manual principle which had a lesser initial cost than the automatic system.

Again, during his term of office, plans and specifications for water and electric lighting had been drawn up, passed and carried out, which had saved resulted in an expenditure of $1,000,000. A proposition was laid before the council to expend another $1,000,000 next year. The favored the expenditure on absolute necessities. The city must have decent transportation and paved streets.

Greater Responsibility. The speaker continued that the citizens had greater responsibility today than they had 10 years ago. Then if they had failed the loss would have been small comparatively, so that the urgency of the present occasion was such that they must only vote for men of unquestionable integrity and sound character.

The speaker stated 5000 more names than on May 24 last. Were the new council in sympathy with that had been carried out in the past were they intended to go to a service of economy and efficiency? He asked the electors to make an investigation of the work of the various wards he suggested during his regime had been economical and efficient and could not. Did they think he had still the ability to plan with the knowledge to carry out? He asked them for their support at the polls and between the electors and the council.

Dr. Smith's Speech.

Dr. H. Smith, defined his position in the forthcoming election. He dwelt at some length on the budget problem. He said that if the matter were not taken in hand now Edmonton would have to face the same questions of congested areas which the larger cities of Canada were grappling with. He pointed out that it was the real work of the city that made our cities famous and claimed that with plenty of land at hand, a small city could do as much as a large one. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race.

Dealing with the street railway question, Dr. Smith said that he would not entertain the idea of selling the street railway. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race.

Attitude of Liberals NOT YET DECIDED (Continued from Page One) The afternoon he had many calls from his constituents of Wright county. He said that if those who were nominating the third candidate were in earnest, they must remember that this isn't a silver-conviction race.

Public Works Announcement. Ottawa, Nov. 20.—On the eve of the opening of Parliament anticipation ran very keen. When the first House of Commons was opened, it was not a word in the speech from the throne regarding the navy question.

It was not surprising since the government had nothing to say and wanted to have nothing to do with it. The opposition, however, were anxious to see the neglect of the government. Mr. Borden's naval proposition—policy will be brought down, with the probability of an expenditure of $1,000,000.

Nothing that has occurred for a year past has so illuminated the inefficiency and vacillation of the Borden government as the speeches of Premier Asquith and his first minister, Mr. Borden, at the recent political banquet. As a result of the Borden government's policy was shown up as a lagging in the naval arm.

"What has been the year memorable for the history of the navy?" said the first Lord of the Admiralty, "has been the year of the Borden government's policy was shown up as a lagging in the naval arm."

The year began by the New Zealand government placing their splendid battleship, the "New Zealand," in the hands of the Admiralty. It witnessed the steady development of the Australian fleet with a consequent relief to the British naval resources. While announcement was recently made that the Australian navy would automatically pass into the control of the British Admiralty in case of war, all this was welcomed with pride, and then came Canada's move in the direction of the Dominion's navy. To the Electors of the City of Edmonton

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

We beg to announce that at a public meeting held in the Moose Hall, Wednesday, November 20th, 1912, at which over 300 electors were present, and at which the fullest discussion was permitted regarding the municipal situation, both of the candidates already in the field were declared unsuitable, and it was unanimously decided to tender a nomination for the majority contest of Edmonton for 1913, to who, after stating his position and accounting for his stewardship as alderman, accepted the nomination, and he is now in the field to the close of the poll on December 9th, 1912.

Immediately after the nomination a Campaign Committee was appointed of 25 electors, who have full charge of the campaign. This Committee has opened headquarters on FIRST STREET, in the McAllen Block, near the corner of Rice Street, over the Canadian Express Co.'s office.

A Finance Committee to handle the Ways and Means of the campaign was appointed, who will receive contributions to defray the entire expense of the campaign, and all subscriptions are to be paid only to members of the Committee authorized in writing by the Secretary-Treasurer, A. W. C. Scriver, to receive them. DO NOT PAY TO ANY OTHER. Contributions are requested to this, the only campaign fund to which you will be asked to subscribe.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,

A. W. C. SCRIVER, HARRY NASH,

Secretary.

Chairman.

The British Admiralty quite inefficient. A year's inaction. The only benefit that the naval dispute has been to the country is that it has shown the Admiralty's inefficiency.

That is the result of over a year. Canada is lagging behind the rest of the Empire, far outdistanced by Australia and New Zealand, whose governments have never made such frantic haste to get on their feet. TURKS DRIVE BACK THE BULGARIANS AT TCHATALJA

Turkish Commander Reports Successful Defense of Lines Before Constantinople.

BULGARIAN WAR OFFICE DENIES TURK VICTORIES

Bulgarians Ordered to Cease Fire While Armistice Terms are Discussed.

Constantinople, Nov. 20.—The position at the Tchatalja line was described by Nessim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, in a telegram to the Turkish war office, filed 12:15 p.m. today, as follows: "Reports received at this moment state that the enemy facing our left wing withdrew completely last night in the direction of the slopes of Yaguz Burnu. Our reconnoitering parties counted over 800 dead Bulgarians on the slopes in the environs of the Tchatalja railway station. From their epaulettes it was established that the dead soldiers belonged to the first infantry regiment of Sofia. A number of rifles, gas and officers' awards were brought to my troops.

"According to statements made by Bulgarian prisoners the enemy has been without food for three days and is retreating. The Bulgarians were unable to carry away all their wounded."

A wireless dispatch from the commander of the Turkish battleship Turgut Reis, dated at 3 a.m. November 20, reports that a Turkish detachment operating from Dardanelles had by the fire of the ship's guns, drove 2000 Bulgarians in the direction of Oran and Karaburun, for a distance of ten miles.

Orders to Cease Firing.

Sofia, Nov. 20.—The Bulgarian troops operating before the line of fortifications defending Constantinople at Tchatalja have received orders to cease fighting and to retreat to positions they have without, as negotiations have been begun for the cessation of an armistice at Tchatalja, east of Turkey.

Turkish Victories Denied.

Sofia, Nov. 20.—All the reports emanating from Turkish sources alleging that the Turkish troops had won victories over the Bulgarians along the line of fortifications at Tchatalja, officially are declared untrue by the Bulgarian war office today. This is the only information given out thus far in regard to the three day operations of the Bulgarian army at Constantinople with the exception of yesterday's announcement that the enemy had been driven at the advanced points of the line.

MANY YOUNG TURKS HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

London, Nov. 20.—Both Ottoman and foreign intelligence agencies are at present awaiting the publication of the results of the investigation of the arrests of the large number of arrests of politicians and writers belonging to the party of Union and Progress.

According to a special dispatch from the Turkish capital the Ottoman government, through a local press agency, has issued a statement that only forty arrests have been made and that the sole reason for these was the organization of a revolutionary committee by university students in front of the government offices on October 1.

How to Establish Republic.

At first the most remarkable reports were circulated in connection of the arrests. With a view of insinuating Musselman opinion it was explained that the Unionists were plotting to establish a republic.

An attempt was also made to divert foreign and Christian sympathy from the arrested men by the circulation of the report that the Ottoman government was planning to arrange a quarter of a million to be given to the arrested men.

These reports were so manifestly and obviously false that the government felt constrained to issue today's statement regarding the arrests.

Diplomatic circles, however, attribute the arrests to a very different reason. They believe that the arrests are a preliminary step to the removal of the Unionists from the cabinet by the Sultan at the behest of the Unionists.

The British Press and the inspectors general of the army. This action was intended to cause the fall of the cabinet.

Neither the public nor court martial which tried the arrested Unionists. This rigorous action is expected to suppress Unionist opposition for a long time to come.

GREEKS AND BULGARS DISPUTE SALONIKI

London, Nov. 20.—The Saloniki correspondent of the Times says that the relations between the Greeks and Bulgarians are far from amicable.

"The fact," he says, "that more serious developments have not occurred is due to the pacific intervention of the Bulgarian minister to France Dr. Delyanov, who is now in the city."

The Greek minister to France, Dr. Delyanov, who is now in the city, has been ordered to leave the city.

ALL SCHOOLS CLOSED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Constantinople, Nov. 20.—Orders to the schools the government has ordered the closing of the schools and further notice.

M. Delyanov, the Russian ambassador in Constantinople, has been ordered to leave the city.

SCENE OF THE SPANISH ASSASSINATION—last is the picture of the late Spanish Premier. The figure on the left is of the man who was shot.

The council of ministers at a late hour was still sitting discussing the independent accounts from the Turkish front confirm the statements that the Turkish forces are maintaining their positions on the Tchatalja line, but it is said that the Bulgarian attacks are of a tentative nature, having as their object the feeling out of the Turkish positions and their strength.

Official circles are much encouraged with the results of the various attacks which they think the Bulgarians must have found costly. It is confirmed that several of the enemy's guns have been dismantled by the Turkish fire. These were not captured, however, because they were in place and could not be moved.

Are Not Frustrated.

According to reliable information the Greek troops are behaving very badly at Saloniki. Under the pretext of searching for arms they are making house-to-house visits to the Bulgarians and are taking away anything that is valuable. It appears from these reports that the Greek and Bulgarian troops have failed to fraternize as cordially as has been hoped for. It is said that a quarrel occurred between the soldiers of the two nations, the Greek soldiers being the aggressors.

TURKS HAVE WORKED WITH GREAT CUNNING

London, Nov. 20.—Lionel Brough, the noted war correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, writing Sunday, says:—

"I witnessed the bombardment of the Adrianople forts to the east and north of the city. The drive was not heavy, but accurate. The invaders are not attempting to break or destroy the city, but are attempting to destroy the forts to the east and north of the city. The invaders are not attempting to break or destroy the city, but are attempting to destroy the forts to the east and north of the city."

BALKAN ALLIES WILL STAND BEHIND SERVIA

London, Nov. 20.—The Austrian agent is disposed to avail Servia's reply until King Peter has returned to Belgrade from Bucharest, according to Vienna despatch to the Mail. The king, who caught cold on his way to Bucharest, is expected to return to Belgrade and his return to the capital may be postponed indefinitely.

From Budapest it is learned that the real object of the mission to the Bulgarian capital was to discuss the Bulgarian demand of depletion, which was a demand for the return of the Bulgarian lands, which were lost in the event of Austria-Hungary's victory.

The Mail Constantinople correspondent states that the landing of the Bulgarians and marines from the foreign warships is regarded with some apprehension by the Turks.

The grand vizier terms the action premature and unnecessary.

The people in the streets tonight watched with interest a great naval gun on a flag staff at the embassy building messages to the cruiser lying in the Bosphorus.

minister at Belgrade. He cried as he handed his sword to the Serbian commander. Luxurious apartments await him when he is brought to Belgrade."

Turks Hold Their Position.

London, Nov. 20.—The Turkish correspondent at the front, under date of November 14, says:

"The Bulgarians apparently found the Turkish extreme line, impregnable. Their dark divisions, the Turkish generals were able to make the Bulgarians a distance of their heavy guns were of long range."

"The Turks had no reason to call the reserves who shatter the crests of the hills and the slopes behind the Tchatalja line, while they watch the artillery fire with the greatest interest. From troops arrive daily."

11 and 14, were evacuated.

Adrian, Nov. 20.—Crown Prince Constantine has been appointed the prime minister as follows:

standing three columns into Volozna, Gamsitov and Krasnitskiy. It was a heavy rain which continued today. The Turkish army has been ordered to retreat to the command of N. A. a well-known Young Turk from Salonika. The enemy still retains despite the surrender of the garrison at Monastir."

MAGNIFICENT COURAGE DISPLAYED BY TURKS

London, Nov. 20.—Telegraphing from the front of Salonika, under date of November 14, the correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says:

"The battle has provided one of the bloodiest of the present war, both sides sustaining fearful losses. Magnificent courage was displayed by the Turkish officers of the highest rank exposing themselves to the fire of the Bulgarians with unequalled devotion in order to get at the enemy's positions."

"The battle is still raging with unabated fury. The Bulgarians are directing their fire against the force west of Hadendel, and attempting to break through the Turkish lines. The Turkish soldiers are showing a most heroic resistance."
